

Ludovic Veale, Executive Partner, London, UK

Ludovic Veale has over twenty five years experience in delivering and advising on advanced data & analytics solutions for multiple clients.

Ludovic's focus has been on building and leading new analytics teams and initiatives from inception and strategy through to delivery and maintenance. His experience covers end-to-end delivery, from data management through to reporting, predictive analytics and machine learning with a focus on delivering business insight.

As a consultant he has managed end to end delivery of high-profile projects with full budget and risk responsibilities. As a natural communicator with deep technical expertise, he has been able to convey the true value of data and analytics and how it can offer business a vital new competitive edge.

Prior to joining Gartner, Ludovic held Data & Analytics leadership roles for top tier global companies as well as consulting roles with the big4 focusing on BI, Data Management and Advanced Analytics.

Ludovic Veale
Executive Partner
Data & Analytics,
London, UK.